Today I decided to go on an adventure With my Family. We decided to take my Granda, as the old fart needed a day out. He doesn't do much exercise, and I thought it would give granny some peace. I love hiking up Slieve Gullion, but granda didn't think he'd make it up. We walked and walked granda wasn't very happy he moaned quite a bit. After 5 hours we reached the top and had our picnic. We looked through the binoculars and found our houses. It was then time to go home, so we started to climb down the mountain and granda slid half down on his arse. I had such a lovely day With my Family.
